KNOWLES BATS HARVARD TO A BIG TRIUMPH

Triples With Bases Full and Beats Princeton by 5 to 4.

NULLIFIES TIGER RALLY

Beaten Varsity Gets 4 Runs in Fifth on Hard Hitting.

Special Desputch to THE SUN. CAMBRIDOS, Mass., May 24.—Harvard's baseball team, which lost to Princeton a week ago, turned the tables en the Tigers this afternoon by 5 to 4. When the seventh inning opened it looked like another big day for Princeton which, with Kirkland pitching good ball, was leading by 4 to 1, and had knocked Babe Felton out of the box.

In the seventh, however, the Crimson got its batting eye out for Kirkland's deliveries, getting a start with a base hit. Then, with two men out, Hallowell and Emmons rapped out two baggers. Jee Knowles proceeded to siam out a three bagger that settled the game. In the fifth the Tigers had a similar four hit rally against Felton, but after that Hardell, who held the Tigers hitless for some limiters as week. seven innings a week ago, was dead on the mark and the Jerseymen made only one hit in their last four batting ses-

At the very finish, however, Hardell was in a bad hole. With his team only one run ahead and following a base hit by Pinch Hitter Gray he filled the bases by passing both Bade and Cook. Happily for Harvard there were two men out and the game was saved when Capt. McLeed got under Bauhan's fly to short right field.

Harvard Outhate Rival.

Harvard made eight hits to the Tigers' six, but Feiton and Kirkland kept the bingles scattered in all except one linning each. The Cambridge nine drew away at the start with a one run lead. Hallowell got a pass, stole second, advanced on an out at first and finally counted on Knowles's single to left field.

In the first four innings the Tigers received five bases on balls and reached third twice, but it was not until the fifth that they got into the ball game. This inning looked like the one that would end Harvard's chances.

Felton passed Strubing and Cook sacrificed. Bade also waited for his base on balls and then Trimble rapped a triple to left centre for two runs. Bauhan and Trimble then worked the squeeze play prettily for another run, and with two out Keyes singled, Seldler doubled and Harvey brought Keyes home with a base hit over second base, Seldler, however, being nipped at the Seidler, however, being nipped at the plate by Hallowell's throw to Blair. For the next three innings Harvard did not have a chance apparently, but fell on Kirkland suddenly in the eighth. King fanned, and although McLeed singled he was forced at second base by Hardell, who had succeeded Felton in

One of the first real big upsets of the tennis season marked the opening of the club tournament of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills yesterday. Hugh Nearing defeated Robert Le Roy in the first round of the championship singles in straight sets at 6-2, 6-2. Nearing has been playing good tennis for some time but who never has been up near the top, caught the former Columbus star off his game and outplayed him all the way.

Le Roy, at one time was intercollegiate champion and has kept a place in or near the first ten for a number of years. Only a few years ago Le Roy startled the tennis world with a stirring comeback, in which he defeated William M. Johnston, the speedy young Californian, in a great match at Seabright. By INNIS BROWN.
